Our Process

SuperStaff utilizes a tried and proven process to deliver the best possible outcome when setting up customer service and technical support centers.

1. Identify needs

To ensure a rewarding partnership, we start by looking deeper into your business needs. We first identify your customer base, infrastructure requirements, and other gaps that we need to fill for your customer service or technical support operations.

2. Establish goals

The next step is to set quantifiable goals. We utilize high-level planning models to devise smart strategies and align them with your business's mission, vision and core values.

3. Create scope of work

From job responsibilities and geographical reach to productivity and CSAT tracking measures, we discuss the scope of your operations. Afterward, we will come up with strategies to ensure that all involved parties are on the same page.

4. Select from talent pool

Then, our recruitment team will invite you to choose the experts who will make up your customer service or technical support team. By devising sourcing strategies customized to your needs, we narrow down your options to the most promising candidates.

5. Train and integrate

SuperStaff employs a rigorous training process built around your definition of excellent customer service. We empower our agents with the skills, information, and technical know-how to deliver world-class support.

6. Manage office operations

To ensure smooth day-to-day operations, we consistently monitor our agents' progress in all key performance indicators. SuperStaff also facilitates continuous learning and process improvement as needed.
